HARWOOD

Thomas Harwood (1), of Skiffes Creek, gentleman, 100 acres, adjoining his own land on Skiffes Creek (Warwick County), granted in the right of Sergeant Hugh Heywood. September 1, 1632. By Harvey.

Captain Thomas Harwood came to Virginia about 1620, and on June 28 of that year he (described as "the Chief of Martin's Hundred") was appointed member of the Council (Proceedings of Va. Company). He was probably a relative of Sir Edward Harwood (a distinguished soldier), who was a member of the Virginia Company, and in 1619 presented a petition to that body in behalf of the proprietors of Martin's Hundred. An examination of Sir Edward's will, however, shows no reference to him. On July 24, 1621, he was again appointed to the Council, but does not appear to have remained long a member of that body, as he was Burgess for Mulberry Island, 1629, 1630, 1633 and 1642; for Warwick County 1644, 1645, 1648 and 1649; Speaker of the House, 1648-9, and chosen member of the Council 1652 (Hening). He took an active part in the deposition of Governor Harvey, and was sent to England in 1634 by the House of Burgesses to defend their action in that affair. Immediately on arriving he was arrested, and for a time kept a close prisoner in the Fleet prison; but was released and returned to Virginia (Sainsbury Abstracts). He appears to have been for many years one of the leading men of the Colony, and had numerous descendants in Warwick (where some of the family still reside) and York. It is also probable that those of the name in Charles City and King William Counties were descendants.

In 1652 Humphrey Harwood patented 2070 acres in Warwick, which had been granted to Captain Thomas Harwood in 1637, and had now descended to the said Humphrey Harwood as his son and heir. In the same year Mrs. Ann Harwood patented 150 acres adjoining this grant. Captain Humphrey Harwood was Burgess for Warwick in 1685, and Major Humphrey Harwood (doubtless the same) Burgess in 1692 (Journals). Humphrey Harwood, Sheriff of Warwick, 1710. William Harwood, Sheriff of Warwick, 1721. Major William Harwood, of Warwick, for many years Justice and Burgess, died June 2, 1737 (Virginia Gazette). Colonel William Harwood was member of the House of Burgesses for Warwick, 1744, 1748, 1752, 1753, 1755, 1758, 1764, 1765, 1769, 1772, 1774 (and doubtless in other intervening years), member of the County Committee of Safety in 1775-6, of the Convention of 1776, and of the House of Delegates, 1776. Edward Harwood was a justice of Warwick, 1770; County Lieutenant, 1788 (Cal. of Va. State Papers), and member of the House of Delegates 1780. Humphrey Harwood of Williamsburg, was appointed in 1775 a lieutenant in the troops then raised. He died November, 1788, leaving a wife six children (Va. Gazette). Elizabeth, widow of William Harwood died in Warwick September 7, 1834, aged sixty years, leaving four children (Newspaper).

The first of the name who appear in Charles City County were Captain Joseph (alive 1688) and Captain Sammel. The first named married Agnes, daughter of Captain Thomas Cocks, Sr., of Henrico; and the second married, 1694, her sister, Temperance Cocks. Joseph Harwood was a justice of Charles City in 1705, and Captain Sammel in 1710. Captain Thomas Cocks, Sr., in his will dated 1689, names his grandchildren Thomas, Joseph, Agnes, and Thomas Harwood. Sammel Harwood was Burgess for Charles City, 1723. Sammel Harwood, Jr., was a justice of Charles City in 1719, and appears to have been out of the Commission for a time, as in 1723 the Governor and Council ordered him to be restored to his former place. Sammel Harwood, probably the same, was sheriff of the county, 1730, 1731 and 1737. Sammel Harwood, Jr. "of Weyanoke" was appointed justice of Charles City in 1739. Sammel Harwood was member of the Charles City Committee of Safety 1775 and 1776, and of the Convention of 1776. Samuel Harwood was appointed major in the Virginia forces raised on 1775. Littleberry Harwood was a soldier on the State Line during the Revolution. William Harwood of Charles City (probably of "Weyanoke", as his descendants won that estate), married Margaret Waldrop, and had two children: I. Agness, married in 1788, Fielding Lewis, of Gloucester; II. Nancy, married Thomas Lewis of Gloucester. Captain William Harwood, of King and Queen, married Margaret, daughter of Thomas Roane, and had issue: I. Col. Archibald Roane, of "Newington," King and Queen, member of the House of Delegates, 1816, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1832 and 1834; died September 18, 1837, aged 52 years; married Martha, daughter of Sammel G. Fauntleroy; II. Thomas, moved to Tennessee. A.R. and Martha (Fauntleroy) Harwood had issue: I. Sammel Fauntleroy, married Elizabeth, daughter of Dr. Austin Brokenbrough; II. Priscella; III. Mary Susan; IV. Emily Garnett; V. Lucy, married Judge McPheeters, of New York; VI. Sarah, married Robert Pollard; VII. Archibald A.; VIII. Thomas, married Brown, of Texas, and had six children; IX. Daughter, married Winder.

Thomas Harwood, who was probably a younger son of Captain Thomas Harwood, of Warwick, was a justice of York County in 1653. In York County there was a succession of three Thomas Harwoods, father, son and grandson, beginning with Thomas Harwood, who was a justice in 1652.

Thomas Harwood, of Skiffes Creek, gentleman, 140 acres on Skiffes Creek abutting southerly on the land of Mrs. Avery. Due in right of Hugh Heyward made over to him June 20, 1631. By Harvey, September 1, 1632.
